

FREE PUBLIC BATHS WILL OPEN MONDAY

Failure to Find Proper Locations in Time Caused Some Delay—Where the Baths Are to Be Found.

Thirteen free public bathing baths in Manhattan and one in the Bronx will be opened on Monday next. The delay in opening the baths this year, it is explained by Supt. Walker, was due to the failure to find the proper locations in time.

Last year some of the sites were considered not too healthy by the Board of Health, and this year many sites picked out were considered unhealthy. Every place where a bath is to be opened on Monday at dawn has been passed upon by the health authorities.

The largest of the baths will be at Third street. It will have a capacity of 10,000 a day. At each bath there will be two attendants and a policeman on duty. The baths will remain open until 9 P. M.

The locations of the baths are as follows:

Battery, West Third-fifth street, West Fifty-fifth street, West Eighty-second street and West Ninety-seventh street, on the west side, and Corlears Hook, East Third, East Ninth, East Twenty-fourth, East Thirty-first, East Fifty-first, East One Hundred and East One Hundred and Twelfth streets, in the Bronx, the pier at the foot of East One Hundred and Twelfth street is now under consideration. It is believed that it will also be opened by Monday.

A FURNITURE OPPORTUNITY.

Here's a Chance to Furnish Your House at 10 Per Cent. Discount.

The well-known furniture house of McGroarty's, of No. 270-274 Third avenue (One Hundred and Twenty-third to One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street) have created quite a stir in the trade by offering their wares at 10 per cent. less than the advertised articles of any house in their line.

Some might say that they do not see how it can be possible for a house to sell goods 10 per cent. cheaper and still make a profit. This is easily explained. Their location is in a neighborhood where rents are moderate, although they occupy two five-story buildings, yet their location is as accessible as any other furniture house in the city.

Furthermore a great portion of the articles they sell are manufactured in their own factory, and whatever goods they have occasion to purchase outside are for spot cash, thus affording them every possible discount and concession, which is naturally to the advantage of their patrons and which accounts for the steady increase of their business.

The house of McGroarty's was established in 1885 and enjoys an enviable reputation for high-class house furnishings, rugs, carpets, etc., at remarkably low prices, both for cash and on liberal terms of credit.

EDITH HARDENBERGH WON DIAMOND PIN

Henry A. Rogers Prize Presented to Student of Public School Eighty-four for Highest Class Record—Programme.

Commencement exercises in Public School No. 84, in West Fifth street, of which Miss Susan M. Mack is principal, were held to-day at the school building. Forty-two students were graduated.

The exercises opened with a "Greeting" by Grace Schroeder. Then followed a reading by Helen O'Halloran, a recitation by Irene B. Morris, a recitation by Pearl Sullivan, a recitation by Helen R. McDonald, a solo by Carrie Himmel and the address by the class valedictorian, Edith Hardenbergh. Afterward the class was addressed by former School Commissioner Hugh Kelly.

The diamond pin, presented each year to the student with the highest class record by Henry A. Rogers, president of the Board of Education, was won by Edith Hardenbergh, daughter of a New York newspaper man. The presentation of this pin followed the address of former Commissioner Kelly, who also presented to Elsie Marion Knoke a similar pin won by her last February, at the mid-winter examinations, but not presented until to-day.

President Rogers always had presented the pins heretofore, but was unable to do so to-day, owing to a slight illness which kept him at his home.

The second prize, for excellence in English, was won by Mary Blank.

PROMPT WORK AT FIRE.

Prompt work on the part of Chief Croker prevented the spread of a dangerous-looking fire which started early this morning in No. 33 Front street, a five-story building occupied by firms dealing in paints and oils.

As soon as the first fire company arrived a second alarm was turned in and Chief Croker came to the call. Under his directions the firemen fought their way into the hall and upstairs. They had a dozen streams of water playing on the fire in short order.

Their position was perilous because explosions were likely to occur any minute. It was only the immediate action on Croker's part that prevented this danger. The building was occupied by Lowden & Howe. The entire interior was gutted and $10,000 damage done.

"Suspended." On the subject of dogs, a writer in London Opinion relates that only one dog has ever had the audacity to enter a doghouse during the proceedings. A hundred years ago the Lords were thrown into consternation by a dog's entry. Lord North was addressing the House, and the dog promptly proceeded to bark furiously at him. Lord North, considerably upset, moved that the member whose interference he considered should be suspended. Thereupon the dog was driven out, and suspended in such a manner that he never interrupted again.

ENGINE JUMPS TRACK.

Accident Delays Commuters on Brighton Beach Road.

A Brighton Beach railroad locomotive attached to a flat car jumped the track during the rush hours to-day at Neck Road, delaying traffic for three-quarters of an hour.

The commuters on their way to the city were held up at the stations and thousands who are employed in New York were consequently late at their work.

NEW SPECTACLE AT MANHATTAN BEACH

Pain's fireworks opened with a blaze of glory and loud applause last night at Manhattan Beach.

This summer the dazzling, thundering thriller is a representation of the blowing up of the American frigate Philadelphia in the harbor of Tripoli by Capt.

Stephen Decatur, who had quite a fuss with pirates about a hundred years ago. A fat man who tried his best not to occupy more than one seat confessed he'd never heard of Decatur, but he yelled and clapped his hands at the spectacle until he was red in the face.

Prior to the blowing up of the boat there was a carnival which introduced sports and a large and well-trained ballet.

The exhibition concluded with a display of fireworks, during which a number of pretty novelties were introduced.

Sunday World Wants Work

Monday Morning Wonders.

PRACTICAL JOKER DIES LAUGHING

William Rich, of No. 59 Meserole street, Brooklyn, is dead as the result of a stroke of apoplexy brought on by excessive laughing. Between Rich and an aged hot waffle peddler there was always trouble. It was the delight of Rich to worry the peddler. Yesterday the pair met. They had the usual spat and, after making remarks about rubber, Rich hit the pan of flour a whack and it flew all over the peddler.

Roaring and holding his sides while the peddler dug the flour out of his eyes, Rich made his escape. He laughed so hard that persons at Hum-boldt and Varet streets laughed with him. All he could say was:

"You ought to have seen 'Waffles'."

A minute later Rich fell. The cords in his neck stood out. His face grew red, then purple. An ambulance was sent for and the surgeon said the laughing fit had produced the stroke that had ended his life.

While the body was being carried into

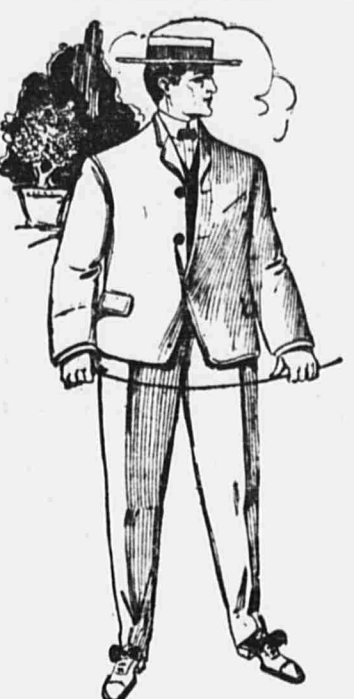

Caucasian Brigands. News has just reached Tiflis of a daring act of brigandage on the trans-Caucasian railway. Between the stations of Novoselak and Abassa four armed men forced their way into the mail van, stabbed one of the two officials in charge, and, having bound and gagged both, proceeded to rifle the mail and treasure chest. The raid was highly successful, the total value of the booty amounting to $50,000. The brigands escaped.
